

Professional development

Thank you very much to everyone who attended and made this event possible. I hope the event will be the first of many more to come for the Comité des étudiants anglophones en droit Université de Montréal (CEAD), and I am proud to be part of this amazing committee. - Daniel Di Stefano.

A very special thank you to our guests, Enda Wong, Ralph Mastromonaco, Lara Griffith and Hon. David Lametti, who made this event unique and brought forth interesting conversations about the importance of preserving and more importantly questioning the law and our role to play as future lawyers.

COMITÉ DES ÉTUDIANTS ANGLOPHONES EN DROIT UDEM (CEAD)

The CEAD would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to everyone that came to our first ever networking event that was a great success! We would also like to thank our sponsors McMillan S.E.N.C.R.L., s.r.l., TD and Y4Y Québec, whose generous support made this event possible.

Lastly, a big thank you to Enda Wong, Ralph Mastromonaco, Hon. David Lametti and Lara Griffith for spending their evening with us!

Thank you for inviting me to share my thoughts with you in the company of the other panelists, gifted lawyers in their areas of practise. It was wonderful for me to walk the halls of a law school again. It took me back- like way back to my law school days. And it looks like everything has changed and stayed the same.

I believe that we remain students of the law throughout our careers. There was a palpable energy in the room last night that I sense comes from a common respect we share for the rule of law and human rights. I wish all of you academic success and look forward to the contributions you will make to help all of us build a better world.

I would be happy to come back and do this again with another audience of enthusiastic Université de Montréal law students. - Ralph Mastromonaco.
